

Emeth High School Activities Making an Impact

While in Israel, I realized something. I realized how close I was to becoming disconnected to my Judaism after my Bat Mitzvah. I feel like a lot of kids think of their Bar or Bat Mitzvah as a type of graduation. After years of studying and hard work they feel like they are finally done with their Jewish studies. No longer needing to come to class every week for Hebrew school or for tutoring, they feel as if they no longer need to be involved. I feel like this was the case in our synagogue for the majority of teens before Rabbi Israel was brought to us.

I remember watching my brother finish his Bar Mitzvah and being so jealous that he was "done". I could not wait for the day of my Bat Mitzvah so I no longer had to attend Hebrew school, write speeches, practice prayers, and all the other means of hard work that comes with becoming a Jewish woman. After this day passed, though, my father told me that he was signing me up, against my will, for the new youth group – Emet Dor Kef - in the synagogue. I was furious. I did not understand why I still needed to learn about Judaism even though I was "finished". My dad, with a smirk on his face, looked me in the eyes and said that one day I would thank him.

Now after years in our teen group, reconnecting with Camp Newman, teaching in the Religious School, and just being involved with Congregation Emeth and Judaism, I am proud to say that I finally understand what my father means about thanking him one day. It scares me to think that I may not have gone to Israel without my further connection to Judaism after the age of thirteen. I cannot thank Rabbi Israel enough for pulling me in and not letting me go even though at the time it was not what I wanted. She has truly helped me develop into the person I am today and I would not be where I am without her help.

A Message from Rabbi Israel

The Time of the Season

A favorite Jewish exchange is: the holidays are early this year! And the regular answer: No, they are right on time. Because the Jewish calendar is based on the lunar cycle with adjustments, the holidays occur at different times on the secular/solar calendar. But this year, all of us are in a state of shock! Erev Rosh Hashanah takes place only two days after Labor Day! The first day of Chanukah is Thanksgiving Day! How is that even possible?

This is the first time since 1899 that Rosh Hashanah has occurred this early and it will never occur earlier than September 5th again!

Cantor Paul Buch has written an explanation of this phenomenon and has given me permission to present it to you (in an edited and shortened form):

A number of factors figure into determining Holy Day dates, but Rosh Hashanah always falls on the first of the Hebrew month of Tishrei. And, the New Year always begins 163 days after the first day of Passover. The exact mechanism for why this is so is a little too involved to thoroughly explain in this limited space, but I'll try to give you a basic understanding.

Our secular calendar is primarily a solar calendar. It takes approximately 365 1/4 days for the earth to go around one time, and the extra 1/4 day is addressed by adding a full day (February 29) every 4 years. However, the Hebrew calendar blends two different ways of determining the boundaries of time- the solar cycle, the one of which we are most familiar, and the lunar cycle, which measures time as it related to the interplay of the Earth and its moon as they dance their way through the days.

In the Hebrew calendar, the 15th of the month is always a full moon, and the 1st of the month is always a "new" moon when only the slightest sliver visible.

In order to keep our Holy Days and both solar and lunar calendars aligned with the proper seasons, it is necessary to make an even bigger correction than the secular calendar gets – our calendar inserts an entire month seven times in every 19 years. That is just what is happening in the coming year of 5774. We will have shanah m'ubberet, a "leap" (literally, "pregnant") year. We add an extra month of Adar (giving us Adar I and Adar II) just before the month of Nissan, when Passover occurs, so that it will take place at its normal time in the spring of 2014.

President's Message

Susan Meyers

Rosh Hashanah – New Beginnings – a time to thank those in our Emeth Community who gave and continue to give of their knowledge, skills, time and energy toward creating the warm, welcoming Jewish Community that we all enjoy. I would like to take this opportunity to give special thanks to our past president, Grant Gordon. Under his capable leadership, and with support from many of you, we have seen enrichments in our educational programs, improvements in our building and enhancements to our financial stability.

Rosh Hashanah– New Beginnings – a time to thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve as your Congregation President along with a devoted and talented Board of Directors; including Grant Gordon, Past President, Becky Neto, Vice President, Paul Crompton, Secretary, Michael Heil, Treasurer, Elizabeth Mandel, Communications, Geoff Jackson, Social Action and our newest board member Susan Braun, member at Large and Membership co-chair. Appreciation also to Barry Freund, Controller; Michael Oshan, Chair of Building Maintenance; Mel Weisblatt, Ritual Committee Chair; Mike Ogden and Susan Braun, Kol Emeth Editors; Debbie Zajac, Congregation Administrator; Wendy Thowdis, past Board Member and current Adult Education Chair; Robin Yacano and Daria Ogden, co-chairs of our Religious School Committee; Rick Coencas, Library Chair; and Patty Baggese and Marilyn Freund for continuing as Sisterhood co-presidents.

Rosh Hashanah – New Beginnings – the future of our Congregation belongs to us, those of us who have been involved for many years, and those of us who are new to our Emeth family. The beauty of being a small Congregation is that it opens doors for everyone to participate. A few months ago we held the first session of a program we call "Getting to Know Emeth: Our Past Our Present and Our Future". A small group of relatively new members to Emeth participated in the three session program, learning the history and the current status of Emeth. During the final session participants were asked to list what they like about what we are currently doing, what to preserve and what to change, revise or create. It was refreshing to hear the long list reflecting what they enjoy and appreciate about Emeth, and what they wish to preserve. They also provided stimulating ideas about what they would like to create in the future.

Rosh Hashanah – New Beginnings- My vision for Emeth? A vibrant, warm, welcoming, inclusive, Jewish Community where everyone feels at home, where everyone feels valued, where everyone's ideas are heard and welcomed, where our Jewish spiritual, social, educational needs are met and where everyone feels a commitment to ensuring that Emeth is a "safe" place to go. How to make that happen? You received a long list of volunteer opportunities, hopefully you have checked off those choices that best fit your interests and skills, and returned that form to us letting us know how you (and your family) would like to participate. You have a Board of Directors eager to hear your ideas, your hopes and dreams for our Jewish Community. Hopefully, you will contact us with your concerns and your ideas for enhancing our Community. You have a wonderful Rabbi who is dedicated to serving Emeth as we wish to be served. Feel welcome and encouraged to share your thoughts with her.

Rosh Hashanah – New Beginnings – On Rosh Hashanah we will read the story of the Akeda, the Binding of Isaac. At the beginning of the story, when God called to Abraham, Abraham responded, "Hineni" Here I Am (Genesis 22:1). I am hoping that when we reach out to you this year, requesting your help to host a Shabbat dinner, to participate in a fund raising activity, to provide feed back which will guide your leadership...that you will respond with "Hineni" Here I Am and I will share my time, energy, skills and talents to enrich Congregation Emeth, my Jewish Community Home.

L'Shanah Tovah Tikatevu – May you be inscribed for a good year in the Book of Life

Emeth In Our Community -- Fun, Fun, Fun!

Fiddler on the Roof

In June, Congregation Emeth successfully partnered with South Valley Civic Theatre (SVCT) to bring a special Jewish historical and cultural afternoon to our community. SVCT agreed to add an extra performance of the musical and Emeth sold tickets to an event that included not just the performance, but additional cultural displays, and a reception of delicious Jewish heritage foods that were provided by and prepared by Emeth members. We satisfied all our objectives, which included selling out the 180 seat theatre and raising $3,200! The event also provided increased visibility to Morgan Hill of Congregation Emeth, while creating a fun and educational social event for our members, friends, and community. Thank you to everyone who made the event a success: Rabbi Israel for assisting SVCT's cast and staff, the committee that planned and put the event together, the members who provided the delicious food and wine, and to everyone who helped spread the word about the event and to those who brought family and friends.

Silicon Valley Jewish Music Festival

Congregation Emeth was one of many synagogues with a presence at the second annual Silicon Valley Music Festival, which was held in June at the Addison-Penzack JCC in Los Gatos. The event drew 1500 attendees. We set up a storyboard display along with a game to draw in families. We had many inquiries about who we are and where we are located-- our presence is becoming known-- and, while we didn't necessarily attract new members, you never know who will have a friend moving to the South Bay and looking for a synagogue. Thank you to the volunteers who staffed our booth. Our next opportunity to set up a booth and tell the community will be at the Taste of Morgan Hill, September 28-29. Please let Elizabeth Mandel know if you would be willing to take a 2- hour shift.

Garlic Kisses

Many thanks to all of the 31 volunteers that worked at the Gilroy Garlic Festival this year. We took in close to $7,000 for the event and after expenses should have about $4,700 to put toward Congregation Emeth programs. Many of the names listed here worked multiple shifts including setting up our booth and tearing down. Despite some technical glitches for a brief time on Saturday, the event went very smoothly and our customers and volunteers had a fun time.

Todah Rabah to the following members who were so generous with their time: Joe Abmont, Nancy Altman, Patty Baggese, Rick and Kathy Coencas, Raul Fernandez, Aileen Teren-Foster, Dale Foster and Aileen Teren-Foster, Barry Freund, Susie Freiberg, Bette Gardner and Michael Heil, Grant Gordon, Sandra and Geoff Jackson, Eve and Trish Kedar, Elizabeth Mandel, Susan Meyers and Michael Oshan, Rich and Sheryl Pupko, Arthur Rudin, Jack Shorr, Cheryl Thompson, Wendy Thowdis, Denise Weyl, Lindy Wisotsky, Debbie Zajac, and Gary Zlatkin.

EDUCATION UPDATE...

Introducing Congregation Emeth's New School "Beit Seifer" (the Hebrew word for school; literally, "House of Books"). We would like to welcome our new principal,

Paula Marsh, as we continue our innovative approach to Jewish learning. In response to feedback from parents, we have combined our Religious and Hebrew Schools into one program. This change means that all classes Pre – K through B'nai Mitzvah will be held on Tuesdays. There are no longer any classes on Fridays. Please see the school registration packet for complete information. The new school schedule is as follows:

Beit Sefer, Tuesday afternoons

Pre K - 2nd Grade: 4:00-5:15 PM

Grades 3 through B'nai Mitzvah: 4:00-6:30 PM

As part of the school curriculum, the community Erev Shabbat (Friday night) dinners will still be held on those Fridays when the Shabbat Short 'N Sweet services are scheduled (roughly twice per month). This is an important part of the educational process and students in grades 3 and up are expected to attend the Short and Sweet Services. A detailed calendar is provided in the school registration packet. Our younger children and their families are encouraged to attend the dinners and are welcome to stay for services.

We would like to welcome some other new leaders in the area of education as well. Thank you to Daria Ogden and Robin Yacono, who have agreed to co-lead the Education Committee. They, along with Paula Marsh, already have some new and fresh ideas for the school that we are excited about implementing. We are looking forward to the upcoming school year. See you on the first day of school, Tuesday, September 17, 2013.

Yom Kippur Study Session

This Yom Kippur is the 40th anniversary of the Yom Kippur War, which took place that year on October 5, 1973. The Yom Kippur War began with a surprise attack against Israel by Egypt and many days passed before the war turned and Israel was victorious. Much about Israel changed after the fateful war, including the perceptions of Israelis, Jews, and the world at large about Israel.

In the afternoon following our Yom Kippur services, at the end of our "break" between our morning services and our afternoon services, our tradition is to engage in study. This year, Rabbi Israel will lead us in a guided study about Israel. The United States has once again brought the Israelis and Palestinians to the peace table and we'll discuss the possibilities for peace. We'll talk about Iran and what it brings to region, and how the Middle East has changed.

Most Israelis agree that 1973 and the aftermath of the Yom Kippur War was traumatic for the State of Israel. Forty years later, what have we learned? Israel and the Jewish community outside of Israel has had four decades of intense debates over the lessons of Yom Kippur.

In addition to this, we'll discuss the activities of the Religious Action Center (RAC) and religious pluralism in general, and the Women of the Wall in particular.

Your ideas and viewpoints are most welcome for what promises to be a spirited discussion. The study session takes place in the sanctuary from 3:30-4:30 PM

Social Action Update...

Once again, many thanks to our regular team of Lord's Table volunteers and for Rabbi Israel's continuing financial support from her discretionary fund. Unfortunately, we are losing two of our Lord's Table volunteers who are moving out of the area. If you can spare some time on the third Thursday of each month to help us from 4:00 - 7:00 pm at St Mary's Church, please contact Sandra Jackson at oursash@yahoo.com.

The High Holy Days are almost upon us, so it's time to start planning our annual food drive. Grocery sacks will be available for you to pick up beginning Erev Rosh Hashanah (Wednesday September 4th). Please fill a sack with non-perishable and unopened food items, and remember to check product expiration dates.

Many thanks to Susan Meyers and Elizabeth Mandel for joining me at the Jewish Federation AGM in Los Gatos. Emeth is starting to get a lot more exposure in the greater South Bay Jewish community. We had the opportunity to hear the guest speaker, Dalia Rabin, former Israeli politician and daughter of late Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin.

While this system of measuring time is complicated and offers us surprises year after year, nonetheless, it allows us to celebrate our holidays and festivals in the proper agricultural season. Otherwise, we would be celebrating the ingathering of the harvest, Sukkot, sometimes in spring or the beginning of the harvest, Shavuot, in winter. Our holiday calendar would no longer make sense.

It may be difficult to adjust our thinking psychologically and plan for such an early High Holiday season – and Chanukah celebration! Nonetheless, it is upon us! Next year, Erev Rosh Hashanah will take place on September 24, the day after the beginning of the fall season. Right on time.

May this be a year of many blessings, fulfilled prayers, good health, and success. Jerry joins me in wishing you a Shana Tova, a very good year.

Emeth Activities Making Impact

I am pleased to say that after spending the summer in Israel my love for the country grew more than I thought was possible and I will be returning to Israel on August 25th to continue my studies there for the next four months. The program that I was just on and will be continuing is called NFTY EIE, a program sponsored by Reform Judaism, and it is truly an amazing experience. While on this program I took a Hebrew class, Jewish History class, toured around the country, did many beautiful hikes, and was exposed to Israeli culture. It has been an experience like no other and I am more than excited to be returning to the wonderful land at the end of this month.

Sarah Langerman

Epilogue by Rabbi Israel: An amazing statistic about Congregation Emeth is that almost all of our high school or college students attend a program in Israel at some point before the age of 30! For a small congregation in a small community, this is a connection we can be proud of! Some go on different organized high school summer programs; most go on Birthright through their various universities; and some spend a year in Israel on a "gap" program, between high school and college. And of course Eric Crompton, who immigrated a few years ago and is currently serving in the Israeli Army, is always on our minds. Thank you Sarah for sharing your story!

We can also open the Gift Shop on September 3 after 7:00 while setting us for Rosh Hashanah Oneg. Please let us know if you need to have the Gift shop opened at that time.

With Honors - revised from an article published in Silicon Valley's Jewish Newspaper

One of Congregation Emeth's youth leaders, 17 year old Joshua Toch, was selected this summer for multiple honors. The incoming senior honors student at Live Oak High School, where he is the school's Student Body Vice President, was selected by American Legion Post 217 in Gilroy to be one of its two representatives at the 2013 American Legion California Boys State. At Boy's State, he was elected Lieutenant Governor by the 1,041 attendees. He was then selected to be one of two Senators to represent the State of California at the 68th Annual American Legion Boys Nation in Washington, D.C., which was held July 19-27, 2013.

At Boys Nation, Joshua was selected from among 23 candidates to be his party's nominee for Boys Nation President. The Presidential debates, campaign speeches, and Presidential election were all streamed live on Legion TV and were closely followed throughout the United States. Joshua was also honored for being selected for the Rotary Youth Leadership Academy, which was held from August 5-9, 2013.

Josh is a past President of Congregation Emeth's Emet Dor Kef ("Emeth's fun generation") Teen Group and has been a madrish (student teaching assistant) in the temple's Religious and Hebrew Schools for the past three years.

He is four time alumni of summer programs run by Camp Tawonga (San Francisco Jewish Federation), including the Northwest/Canada Quest, the California Magical Mystery Quest, and two summer programs at Camp Towanga itself. He also attended one summer at Camp Newman.

In the summer of 2012, Joshua was honored to have been selected as a member of the first class of Young Judea's "I Speak Israel" (ISI) program, which was partially underwritten by the David Project, the only California participant on the hand-picked program. As part of ISI, Joshua spent a month in Israel studying speech and debate techniques and advocacy for the State of Israel. While in Israel, the ISI group toured the country extensively and met with stakeholders from all sides of the Arab/Israeli/Palestinian issue.

"Congregation Emeth is like one big family," said Rabbi Israel. "We are small enough that we know all of our children and take pride as they go through our school and become menschen (people with admirable qualities) in the community. Josh is a great example of such a student. He is a regular attendee at our services, helps with our audio equipment, and he acts like big brother to the younger students in our schools. We are as proud as if we are all his aunts and uncles. We expect him to continue to achieve great things, with a strong Jewish foundation as his home-base." Joshua is the son of Emeth members Randy Toch and Katherine Toch.
